Festive Wakefield

Experience the spectacle of Light Up's trails and installations at locations across the district. Enjoy a beautiful, old-fashioned Christmas at National Trust, Nostell. Descend 140 metres to a subterranean grotto to meet Santa underground at the National Coal Mining Museum, or head to Pontefract Museum's sweet themed grotto to see Liquorice Santa and the Oh Yes, It Is! pantomime exhibition, celebrating 75 years of Ponte Panto.

Little ones will love to take a trip around the lake and back on Pugneys' Light Railway Christmas Wonder Ride, or for older kids (8+), head to Escapable at the Ridings Centre and outsmart Jack Frost!

Whatever your age, you must go and see Theatre Royal Wakefield's legendary panto.

The Great Panto Mix-Up Trail

15th November to 5th January

YOUR QUEST IS TO EXPLORE THE CITY CENTRE AND UNCOVER A SERIES OF QUIRKY SURPRISES ON A MAGICAL JOURNEY.

At each stop, you'll find a character holding an item that doesn't quite belong. Identify the wrong prop and complete the answer sheet.

You can do one to seven in any order. Once you've visited all the windows, head to the Theatre Royal Wakefield to view the final character and enter the prize draw!

Key

- 1 Fairy Godmother - Wakefield Carpet Specialists
Where wishes are granted and magic's not far, but why is she holding something that should be in a jar?

Ms. Van-Dini - The Ridings

- 2 She's the prince's helper, so stylish and grand. But what's the power she holds in her hand?

Buttons - Wakefield Cathedral

- 3 Buttons is here, with a glint in his eye, but why is he holding something that shines so high?

Ponty the Ugly Sister - Wakefield library

- 4 With jealousy green, and plots that are steep, why is she holding something so sweet?

Cass the Ugly Sister - Trinity Walk

- 5 She's usually grumpy, her face in a pout, but what's she doing with that old spout?

Drusilla - Wakefield BID Office

- 6 Drusilla's scheming, her tempers on top, but why's she carrying something that goes tick-tock?

Prince Charming - Rhubarb Radio

- 7 The prince on his quest, with courage so bold, but why does he hold something so old?

Cinderella - Theatre Royal Wakefield

- 8 As the story ends with a dance so bright, but what Cinder's holds seems ready to wilt at midnight?
